(The Vampin' Lady)

music by Miton Ager • lyrics by Jack Yellen • 1923

Folks, you've heard of scan-da-lous vamps, his-to-ry is full of love-mak-in' champs, But if you Lov-in' gals, you bet-ter look out, if you've got a man you're cra-zy a-bout, 'Cause he may crave a brand-new thrill, come and meet the vamp of Lou-is-ville.
 be the best of men, but he's bound to weak-en now and then.
 She's a gal who's no-bod-y's fool, got a kiss that's like the kick of a mule, Un-til you're Give him plen-ty lov-in' each night, don't you ev-er leave him out of your sight, 'Cause if he vamped by this bru-nette, broth-er, you ain't had no vamp-in' yet.
 meets this vamp-in' doll, then you have-n't got a chance at all.
 They call the la-dy Lou-is-ville Lou, oh, what that vamp-in' ba-by can do! She is the most heart-break-in'-est, shim-my shak-in'-est that the world ev-er knew. She got the kind of lov-in' that holds 'em, big brown eyes and she rolls 'em! Hot lips that are pips, and no more con-science than a snake has hips. And when she struts her feath-ers and plumes, the port-ers drop their mops and their brooms, You ought-a see them trail-in' her, in hal-in' her per-fumes, And ev-en Dea-con Jones, who was old and bent, sold his crutch-es just to pay her rent, So broth-er here's my warn-in' to you, keep far a-way from Lou-is-ville Lou.
